

The last thing we need is another Clear Channel. I oppose the homogenization of American airwaves through consolidation. Regions have an interest in maintaining their cultural identities, and broadcast consolidation forces Californian and Texan culture on all of us.